

HARRIET TUBMAN CENTENNIAL 2013

Come to a one-of-a-kind musical tribute to Harriet Tubman March 10, 2013

What it is:

Join in a centennial concert to celebrate the life of American hero Harriet Tubman on Sunday, March 10—exactly 100 years since her passing. Don't miss this moving, inspirational concert that brings Tubman's story to life in a way that you've never seen or heard before.

Why you should come:

The "Harriet Tubman: Bound for the Promised Land" Concert features the Marcus Shelby quartet, with vocalist Faye Carol, coming all the way from California. The way Tubman used song as she led people out of slavery and into freedom inspired Shelby to write and arrange this musical tribute. You'll hear jazz, spirituals, freedom songs, and blues music in a performance that All About Jazz calls "very moving and life affirming."

When and where:

The Marcus Shelby performance begins at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 10, in the Choptank Ballroom at the Hyatt Regency Chesapeake Bay Resort, 100 Heron Boulevard in Cambridge, Maryland—just a few miles from where Tubman grew up. Sponsored in part by Dorchester County Tourism and Maryland Office of Tourism.
